F LYING HIGH. . .

A cousin in Milwaukee, Jean Larson, has just returned from an international convention of Pilots' International in Toronto.

She was installed president-elect of the 18,000-member organization of professional and executive business women.

Jean takes office next year in New Orleans as president, according to a report. It was a "small" convention of 2,016 delegates.

Jean heads Roa's, Inc., a film leasing and distribution business in Milwaukee, now a subsidiary of The Milwaukee Journal, which i s rated by most metro publishers one of the top five or ten daily newspapers in the country.

Jean studied history at the University of Wisconsin, Madison, and film editing in New York City before moving into the Milwaukee operation. The firm distributes various types of films across the nation.

I first saw and heard her leadership gifts at a family gathering two years ago in Venice, Fla., the evening we did the "Round Table" routine and addressed ourselves, perhaps a dozen or so, to what we were, where we've been and where we're going. It was my father's 80th birthday. And I hadn't seen her since a 1967 press meeting in Milwaukee.

The news came from an aunt, who lives with Jean and shares one of the heaviest schedules in that Wisconsin city. I'm sure. And she has Jean's flair. Etta's most recent birthday was a gathering for 300.

There are other interesting and capable people in the clan, scattered from Montana to Florida and around.

Perhaps it is the times we have experienced the past decade or more, from Cameron to Washington, from Milwaukee to Vietnam, but seeing success for somebody you know means more than it did during those years. I suppose it is a certain restructuring of perspective, of finding out again who "you," "me," "we," and "they" are.

I think it is happening to all of us.

Jean' s attainment is a distinguishing mark in a career unknown to me until the mid-60s. Like anybody else, she started long before the "big breaks."

I hope to get her insights on the un-"Jolly Green Giant" of jealousy and dealing in disbelief at opposition to new patterns in culture and development. She would have some wry comment, I imagine.

People like Jean make things whirr and tick and go on schedule. I know little more than you who just read this about Pilots International.

But I am confident Jean Larson will run that organization with verve and intelligence. There is little enough of these in the right places these days.

Car-Bus Collision Kills Woman, Injures Ten

A Rockdale woman was killed and 10 persons were injured Friday in a collision between a station wagon and a San Antonio-bound Continental Trailways bus.

Dead on arrival at the Rockdale Medical Association was Mrs. Beatrice Brahm, driver of the station wagon. Rockdale police said Mrs. Brahm, who was alone in the vehicle, was in her early 50s.

Two passengers on the bus, Mrs. Manuela Rodriguez of Rockdale and Clifton Williams of Oklahoma City were listed in stable condition at Richards Memorial Hospital in Rockdale.

Driver of the bus, Bobby W. Armstead of Dallas, and seven other passengers were released from Rockdale Medical Association after treatment of minor cuts.

Police said the accident occurred about 11:45 a.m. in the 1400 block of East Cameron Avenue (Highway 79), about 1,000 feet inside the eastern Rockdale city limits.

Officers said the station wagon driven by Mrs. Brahm was traveling west on East Cameron when it skidded in front of the east-bound bus.

The bus veered 15 feet off the road and through a barbed-wire fence, police said. The windshield of the bus and several windows were shattered, causing most of the injuries.

County Judge Urges Followup On CPA Advice

County Judge O. B. Harden told commissioners in a regular session Monday that recommendations by a Sinton auditor who audited county finances should be carried out throughout county offices.

Commissioners agreed and the firm of Harris, Havens & Co. will be paid $1,500 to organize offices into an improved bookkeeping system. The firm will also organize the county budget into a numbered system that will make record keeping more efficient.

Harden also recommended that a complete inventory of all county property should be undertaken as soon as possible, as suggested by Harris.

Talk of budget prompted new Commissioner Curtis Hines to ask why the county does not employ a field assessor to assess rural and other property that is not now on the tax rolls.

Hines said prices keep going up but the county budget is not going up. His precinct, No. 4, was suffering a shortage of funds when Hines took over from Dalton Caffey who resigned recently.

In other business, court:

--Approved holding a public budget hearing on August 30 from 9-10 a.m.

--Agreed to leave sheriff's department radio dispatchers salaries as they are.

--Tabled action for further investigation on a $100 increase in the county wolf trapper's salary.

--Heard Finis Voyles, Sharp constable, ask for help in buying a high-band radio which would cost the county about $350.

--Discussed a new roof for the old county jail which is to house a county museum. An estimate of materials will be sought from Howard Buchanan of Thorndale, who had earlier bid on the job.

--Decided on a slab and steel building for a storage shed for courthouse and jail use instead of more costly brick. Specs will be drawn up for the advertising for bids.

--Appointed Commissioner Adolph Gresak to serve on the Youth Exposition Association building committee.

--Discussed a plan for work on a park deeded to the county by John Lee McCoy recently. The park is located near the Pleasant Retreat Church south of Thorndale. Harden recommended that the Soil Conservation Service and the County Agent be asked for help on what can be done.

Target Date Set For Opening Of County Museum

A target date of October 9 has been set by the County Historical Museum Committee for the opening of three rooms of the new county museum to be held in conjunction with the annual city arts and crafts show.

Committee met Tuesday and heard that Green Thumb workers have been promised to do the carpenter work, plastering and painting on the ground floor of the old county jail in preparation for the opening.

The committee is asking for display cases and also for artifacts to display in the museum. Anyone having these articles is asked to contact Ada Margaret Smith.

Arrangements have bee n made for electrical and plumbing work in the building, chairman Mary Belle Batte told the committee.

Miss Batte also asked that anyone having any of the old hitching posts that were once in front of the jail donate them to the museum.

Milam Mishaps Injure One Over Weekend

Milam highway patrolmen worked some eight accidents over the weekend and all but one were reported as minor with no injuries.

The single exception was that of a car turnover two miles south of Minerva on Highway 77 Saturday morning when John Montalando of Rockdale received a broken arm when his car struck another driven by Dudley McDaniel of Minerva.

The Montalando vehicle turned over on its side after the collision. The driver was taken to a Rockdale hospital and then transferred to Scott and White.

CITY ACCIDENT

A rear-end truck collision at N. Central and Fannin in Cameron around 8 a.m. Tuesday morning slightly injured one driver who was treated for a bloody nose and cuts at a local hospital.

Injured was Randy Lynn Faulks of Plainview, driver of a grain truck which collided with the rear-end of a tractor-trailer van driven by Richard Nelson of Floydada stopped for the red light.

ECA Classes Start For Ambulance Attendants

Emergency Care Attendant (ECA) classes for volunteers of the Cameron Ambulance Service began on Monday, August 9 at the Yoe High homemaking building.

These classes are being presented by three members of the Temple Fire Department in the form of lectures, films, and demonstrations of the methods of emergency care services.

The remaining schedule for these classes is as follows: August. 12, August 16, August 19, August 24, August 27, August 30, and September 2 with a final state examination to be given on September 9.

Anyone interested in participating in the Volunteer Ambulance Service is urged to contact Monroe Fuchs or any other member of the Cameron Volunteer Ambulance Service as soon as possible in order to enroll in the classes.

One Officer Stays
Rockdale's Police Force Resigns

ROCKDALE

Law enforcement has been placed in the hands of a single police officer in this community of about 5,000.

Rockdale police chief Tom White resigned Friday after a power bout with the city council and four other officers have followed suit.

The remaining sworn officer, Sgt. Felipe Martinez, former Cameron police chief, was named acting police chief in the wake of the resignations and, as of Saturday, was heading a department of police reservists. Martinez later hired former policeman James Mortimer to shore up the department.

Rockdale Mayor N. E. Alford told the Austin American-Statesman Saturday, "There was some disatisfaction down there that finally came to a head."

White said he "resigned for political reasons. I felt like I wasn't being allowed to run the department."

The former Midland police inspector, who became Rockdale chief in June, said he felt he was "not providing exactly what they (the city council) wanted, and the political situatio n was such that I felt I just could not remain."

Rockdale City Councilwoman Margie Abbot told the Statesman the council had asked White to resign because of two instances when he did not carry out the council's recommendations.

Council members reportedly asked that a particular officer be suspended because his patrol car had been seen parked outside the home of a woman friend in the middle of the night.

The other incident involved the chief's hiring of a dispatcher after he had been told not to hire anyone.

"He didn't comply with our recommendations and we asked him to resign," Abbot told the Austin newspaper.

White, a Lampasas native who was a highway patrolman before working in Midland and Rockdale, said his future is uncertain.

White told the Temple Telegram that as far as he was concerned, "I'm the one who is stepping down." City Manager Max Pitts confirmed that his police chief ha d not been asked to step down.

Pitts said White submitted a letter of resignation at a Thursday city council workshop session, but it was not accepted since the matter was not on the agenda. The letter was resubmitted Friday and it was accepted.

"The only reason I know of (for White resigning) was that he felt he was not able to communicate with the council," Pitts said.

Meanwhile, the ambulance service, normally manned by policemen, has been taken over temporarily by the Rockdale Volunteer Fire Department. And one other former policeman, Cliff Blackburn, has volunteered his services in the evenings to help police the city. Also, the department has about three reservists who are assisting.

Pitts said the council would meet Monday night in regular session but no action could be taken because they couldn't get the item placed on the agenda 72 hours before the meeting time.

"We're interviewing applicants now," Pitts said, "We'll just have to start from scratch."

Officials Investigating Train Derailment

THORNDALE

Missouri Pacific Railway officials are investigating the cause of a major derailment in Thorndale about 5 p.m. Sunday that scattered about 30 cars of a Houston-bound freight train.

About a mile of tracks was torn up but no injuries were reported. Most of the cars were carrying street-basing crushed rock from New Braunsfels destined for Houston.

Also, a cable of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. was struck causing some problems with Thorndale phone service, a city official said.

officials first thought the wreck might have been caused by a collapsed trellis bridge but W. E. Brakenfick, assistant chief engineer of the Missouri Pacific in the St. Louis central office, said an investigation showed the bridge collapsed after the rails were split.

He said parts of the track are being removed and shipped to St. Louis for laboratory analysis to help pin-point the cause of the wreck.

Workers cleared the tracks of the wreckage and the wrecked cars will be sold for junk.

RIBBON CUTTING ceremonies Monday morning opened the new Gibson's Discount Center in Cameron with a large crowd on hand. School Trustees Set Schedule For Hot Days

Cameron school trustees set the hot weather schedule for the beginning of classes August 23 and run from 8 a.m. until 2 p.m. until there is a break in the heat.

The action came at a regular meeting of the board on Monday evening, when members accepted resignations, hired more school personnel, and opened bids on school supplies.

Resignations accepted include those of Kenneth Freeman, seventh grade social studies teacher, who has been hired as principal of another school; Agnes Annalora, who is ill; and Ruth Price, who is returning to her former school.

In executive session, the board discussed hiring of four classroom teachers and these were approved when the meeting was called back into regular session. They include Mary Camp, fifth grade; Carol Miller , third grade ; Susan Wilson, third grade; Diana Stipp, fourth.

Board also approved transfer of Elma Flores to the migrant program as an aide and hired Shirley Crook to replace Flores in the Title I program.

The only gasoline bid received was from Exxon, who is presently supplying fuel for school vehicles, so no action was taken. The bid for ice cream went to Borden, milk to Oak Farms, and bread to Rainbo.

Board will seek bids on two old school buses that have been replaced by new buses. To be sold are a 1968 Dodge and a 1965 Chevrolet.

Supt. Buddy Dulin said the school has received six new buses in a year instead of the expected span of three years, and payment may present a problem. He received authority to obtain a short-term loan from a local bank in case funds are needed before all the money due from the state comes in late September.

Provisions for free lunches and reduced price lunches were discussed and Dulin pointed out that for the first time this year, the program provides for prosecution in the case of fraudulent statements.

Intro Planned For Yoemen On Maroon, Gray Day

Saturday, August 14, has been designated "Maroon and Gray Day" in honor of the 1976 Cameron Yoemen by the trade committee of the Cameron Area Chamber of Commerce.

The evening activities at Yoe Field have been dubbed "Meet the Yoemen Night" and will start at 7:30 p.m. The Yoe band will be on hand, and Gene Smitherman, announcer of the evening, will introduce the 1976 Fighting Cameron Yoemen and coaches.

Following the introductions there will be an inter-squad scrimmage.

Dan Long, chairman of the trade committee, said, "The business community is proud to host this 'Meet the Yoemen Night' to signify our support for our '76 Yoemen." Long also said that the committee hopes that everyone will plan to attend and to wear some article of clothing in the school colors.

Timing Critical...

This comes at a time when Cameron is anticipating a Youth Exposition Bldg. across from the present City Hall.

Donations are about half way toward a goal of about $65,000 for construction of a 12,000 square-foot structure here, a project long viewed for the county whose central location is best served in Central-Milam Cameron.

A county fair has been discussed for years in Milam County, but small county fairs, "country fairs" are in major competition with the Waco Central Texas Fairs, the Texas State Fair at Dallas and a host of regional fairs, fetes, fests, Six Flags Over Texas, Folk Life Festival, Astroworld, to name a few beyond East and West Texas.

The problem is fairs are usually in the fall because of the intense summer heat. Fetes and ethnic functions seem to happen in the spring or early summer.

Rockdale has space for a fair, but leaders no doubt will consider the competition in looking to a fall schedule, in no way interfering with a January junior stock show here.

Cameron's experience in Folk Fete found it critical in avoiding conflicts with competing attractions. And the distances travelled on highways these days, when a 100 miles is no distance and no time at all, put metro functions in competition with what once were remote areas.

Timing is critical in holding a fete, Cameron has learned, not to mention the logistics of putting a fair on the grounds.

Rail Service Question...

Trucking made the proposal inevitable: The Southern Pacific wants to pull the tracks connecting Quintiff, 3 miles north of Cameron and Rosebud. The Cameron North postmark is the rail service to Cameron Industrial District.

This line was saved perhaps 18 years ago by appeals to offset the diminishing cotton production of this area.

But trucks are hauling much of the grain on short hauls. Grain trucks from three Cameron grain facilities are now moving much of the tonnage. Trucks haul it into the grain storage facilities. Only when major loads are shipped longer distances do rail facilities take the load.

It is a sign of the times, and less critical to Rosebud than a couple of decades ago. It is psychological bad news, because of the problems our neighboring Falls community has been having with its dam.

These are problems of towns under 3,000 to 5,000. Cameron was large enough in the critical 1960s to bridge most of the impasses.

Highways bring lots of traffic through every town, including Rosebud. The trick is to do something with it.

Just like railroads, the roads and the trucks travelling them go both ways.

"Low Down" FROM THE Congressional Record

By JOE CRUMP

LAWYERS BACK ABZUG'S SEXUAL PREFERENCE BILL

Rep. Bella S. Abzug (N.Y.) "...I am pleased to note that the Association of the Bar of the City of New York has expressed its support for H.R.5452, my bill to outlaw discrimination in public accommodations, public facilities, public education, federally assisted opportunities, employment, housing sale, rental financing, and brokerage, and federally assisted education programs on the basis of a person's affectional or sexual preference.

"This bill would extend the full protection of our civil rights statues to homosexuals.

"More than a dozen of our states have repealed their laws against such conduct: Arkansas, California Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Hawaii, Illinois, Indiana, Maine, New Mexico, North Dakota, Ohio, Oregon, South Dakota, and Washington.

"Private groups calling for an end to such discrimination include the American Bar Association, National Educational Association, the American Federation of Teachers, the American Psychiatric Association, the National Board of the WYCA, the American Civil Liberties Union, the National Organization for Women, the National Federation of Priests' Council, and the American Law Institute.

"The statement of the Association of the Bar, is included at this point."

The Record of the Association of the Bar (May/June 1976)

(We include a few excerpts)

The Committee urges adoption of H.R.5452. The Board of Education of the District of Columbia in May 1972 adopted a resolution prohibiting discrimination in hiring in the District's school system based on sexual orientation, and the Pennsylvania State Commissioner of Education granted state certification to the publicly - acknowledged homosexual.

The Committee recommends enactment of H.R. 5452 as a necessary measure to provide uniform national protection against the discrimination suffered by gay men and women in the United States. Adopted: June 1976.

Respectfully submitted.
Carol Bellamy, Chair.

CRUMP'S GRASS ROOTS COMMENT

To remain in office a representative furthers the interests of his or her constituents. Rep. Bella S. Abzug undoubtedly wants to represent the interests of a vocal minority group who would gain most from passage of H.R. 5452.

HighwayRescueProgramProposed

Gov. Dolph Briscoe has recommended an $825 million rescue program for the 71,000-mile Texas highway system.

He proposed re-routing road-user taxes and federal aid to make up for declining revenues and the "ravages of inflation" on road-building.

By 1980, he said all available revenue now earmarked for highways may be required for maintenance alone, with nothing left over for new construction or upgrading obsolete roads and bridges.

Over the next 20 years, less than $2 billion in state and federal funds will be available to finance a backlog of $11 billion of construction and right-of-way purchases.

Brsicoe offered these recommendations, with endorsement of House Speaker Bill Clayton:

—Dedicating three-fourths of auto sales taxes — $203 million in fiscal 1978 — and $45 million a year in car tire, tube, auto parts and assessories sales taxes to highways.

—Switching $50 million a year in road user taxes now going to support the state highway patrol to the highway fund. The Department of Public Safety would, under the proposal, get needed replacement money from general revenue.

—Setting aside $100 million a year in federal revenue-sharing funds during the next biennium for safety and improvement work, including widening of facilities and repair or replacement of unsafe bridges.

The program was assured of opposition. Comptroller Bob Bullock opposed the idea of statutory dedication of more money to highways. Common Cause said the whole idea was "irresponsible."

Saving Recommended

An actuary told the State Insurance Board motorists could save $55 million if required to have deductibles on their collision and comprehensive coverage insurance.

The proposal would still mean rates will go up — but only 5.9 per cent. Companies have asked a 27.9 per cent overall increase.

Actuary Charles Edwards of Dallas recommended $50 deductibles on comprehensive coverage and $200 deductible collision coverage. He said paying the first $50 or $200 from a driver's own pocket would encourage safe driving.

Yarbrough Hit

State Supreme Court nominee Don Yarbrough of Houston has been slapped with 30 allegations by a State Bar grievance committee.

A dozen or more of the charges stem from a lawsuit against Yarbrough brought by former business associates. At the trial, Yarbrough was found to have engaged in civil fraud in law practice involving a 1975 bank transaction.

Yarbrough has been given the opportunity to defend himself against the grievances filed with a Houston Bar committee.

Wayne Paris, assistant general counsel for the State Bar of Texas, said if grievances against Yarbrough are found justified punishment could range from a public reprimand to disbarment.

GOP's Ready

It's the Republicans' turn for the spotlight, and Texas' 100-member GOP delegation (and 100 alternates) will be heading for Kansas City and their national presidential convention August 16.

All delegates and alternates are solidly bound to former California Gov. Ronald Reagan for president.

The delegation is divided in its enthusiasm for U. S. Sen. Richard S Schweiker of Pennsylvania as Reagan's running mate but apparently prepared to stand behind the nominee's choice.

Speculation that former Gov. John Connally is high on the list of President Ford's prospects for the vice presidential nomination appeals to many Texans, but Connally emphasizes he has no commitments. The Texan faces strong opposition.

Gov. Briscoe acknowledged that Connally, if nominated, would be a "factor" in the Texas campaign, but he predicted the Democratic ticket of Jimmy Carter and U. S. Sen. Walter Mondale of Minnesota would carry the state regardless of who the GOP nominees are.

Tourist Spending Down

Spending by visitors was down 18 per cent from the same period a year ago, according to a tabulation of more than 10,000 questionnaires.

Increased frugality of the visitors was compensated in part by the fact they stayed an average of 9.9 days longer than the early 1975 crop of tourists.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editor:

With the fall elections not too far off, when the country will be electing people right and left from local to national offices, with millions and millions of campaign words to be heard, the best advice for the voter to remember is that there are truths, half-truths, and political statements.

A political statement, as I understand it, is an art form. You don't lie, but you don't tell the truth either. If asked about busing, you come out in favor of quality education. Since most politicians seem to be sharper than most TV reporters, they can get by with this for a full half-hour's interview. If some uppity reporter won't turn loose and keeps asking a tough question, you take so long in answering, going all the way back to the Peloponnesian War in 400 B.C., that everybody forgets what the question was.

But the best and shortest answer to a tough question I know about was given by a 12-year-old boy a generation ago. He and his older brother had the job of milking the family's two cows every day, and they got into a contest to see who could milk the most.

Consistently, the younger one started winning. His bucket was always brimful, the other's only two-thirds. But there was something peculiar about it.

"That milk tastes watery," the family complained.

"Son," the father asked, "Are you putting water in that milk?"

"No sir," the boy said. "I am not."

This is a classical political statement. You could go before a grand jury and say it. You could defy a Congressional investigating committee with it. you could look the TV camera in the eye and say it.

The boy was not indeed putting water in the milk. What he was doing, he admitted later on with a grin, was putting milk in the water. Started out with a quart of water, in the bottom of his bucket.

It's a system that works. You a candidate opposed to increased taxes? When elected keep the tax rate the same like you promised but raise property valuations.

There's nothing handier than starting out with water in the bottom of the milk bucket. But perhaps it ought to be discontinued when you're grown, and is, by dairymen, but very few politicians are dairymen.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

A Weekly Report Of Agri-Business News

Compiled From Sources Of The
TEXAS DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE
John C. White, Commissioner

Lowest In Four Years... Crop Harvest Slowed... Hog, Sheep Sales Increase.

Despite a modest drop in numbers, Texas continues to be far and away the leading state in the nation in total livestock numbers.

The 1976 calf crop for the state is now estimated at 5,700,000 head; that represents a five per cent reduction from last year and is the smallest calf crop since 1972, indicating again that cattlemen are reducing numbers of cows.

The number of all cattle and calves in the state as of July 1 totaled 16,300,000, according to the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service. This is four per cent below a year ago and six per cent under two years ago.

Crop reporting district number four (the Blacklands) is the leading area in the state in total cattle and calf numbers, with a total of 2,180,000 head. District 1-N (northern High Plains) is close behind with 2,070,000 cattle and calves.

Nationwide, all cattle and calf numbers totaled 133,500,000 head, five per cent less than a year ago but four per cent higher than two years ago.

Calves born and to be born nationwide this year are estimated at 46,900,000, a decrease of seven per cent from last year.

CROP HARVESTING has been delayed recently due to rains but it is expected an increase will be forthcoming in the weeks ahead.

Grain sorghum harvest is about half as far along compared to the three-year average. Rice harvest has also been slowed. Cotton harvesting is just getting underway with less than five per cent of that crop gathered.

Rains have improved ranges and pastures. Cattle throughout the state are generally in good condition. Most areas of the state have received above normal rainfall for the three month period, April - June. Exceptions include the Cross Timbers, northern High Plains, and Trans-Pecos areas.

SHEEP AND HOG SALES in the state were above year ago levels while sales for cattle and goats showed a decline.

Cattle and calves marketed through auctions decreased nine per cent below a year ago. Goat sales were down five per cent. Hog sales totaled 43,000, up five per cent from a year ago.

During June, more than 221,000 head of cattle and calves were shipped out of the state. This was 40 per cent below the total reported for a year ago.

A 27 per cent increase was reported in numbers of cattle and calves being shipped into Texas during June. Sheep and lambs shipped from other states into Texas were more than double last year.

ICA Endorses Screwworm Guidelines

AUSTIN

The Independent Cattlemen's Association is asking ranchers throughout Texas to cooperate fully with new federal guidelines aimed at controlling a screwworm outbreak now gripping the state.

The new guidelines, applied to all counties in Texas by the U. S. Department of Agriculture this week, require spraying of all cattle within 72 hours of any planned movement to Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, or Tennessee.

Those seven southeastern states have climates in which screwworm flies can "overwinter" and set up a disasterous situation for next year. Movement of cattle to states other than those seven is not affected.

ICA President T. A. Cunningham of Goliad pointed out that the spraying requirements now being applied to all Texas counties have previously been in force in 39 South Texas counties in the screwworm belt.

"With more than 7,100 cases in the first seven months of this year, and with confirmed cases as far north as the Panhandle, we have an epidemic situation," Cunningham said. "The spraying program is for our good, too."

The spraying requirement will remain in effect until Nov. 30.

Cunningham also called on ranchers to remember these basic steps which are critical to screwworm control: prompt submission of samples from all infested wounds, prompt treatment of all wounds with preventative smear, spraying, or dipping regularly to prevent infestation, and use of control programs for ticks, horn flies and other pests which make wounds available for screwworms.

"The sterile fly program is great, but it cannot do the job without the help of the ranchers," Cunningham said.

Texas Tops In Cattle Slaughter

Texans can now brag about one more distinction of their great state. For the first time in history Texas is number one in cattle slaughter in the U.S.

Dr. Ed Uvacek, a livestock marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says this information is based on 1975 statistics and applies only to federally inspected cattle slaughtering plants.

In 1975, Texas had 82 federally inspected slaughtering plants, and 28 of these plants slaughtered more than 50,000 head each. These 28 plants accounted for 11 percent of the total federally inspected cattle slaughter, says Uvacek.

Thirty slaughtering plants reported a slaughter of between 10,000 and 49,999 cattle while the remaining 24 plants slaughtered under 10,000 head of cattle.

Uvacek notes that Nebraska and Iowa followed Texas in the number of cattle slaughtered in federally inspected plants.

The number of federally inspected slaughtering plants increased in 1976 while the number of state inspected slaughtering plants dropped considerably, points out the Texas A&M University Systen specialist.

Last year Texas boasted 465 state inspected plants along with the 82 under federal inspection. This year the number of federally inspected plants jumped to 89 while the number of state inspected plants fell to 352.

County Agents Notes

Grain Harvest In Full Swing

By Bill McCutchen

The grain sorghum harvest is in full swing finally being a month later than normal getting started but continued hot dry weather should allow farmers to get the crop out in pretty good shape.

The quality of the crop was not hurt too drastically by the two weeks of rain in early July. There was some loss of bushel weight, and some charcoal rot attributed to the extended wet weather. Most of the grain sorghum bushel weights seem to be running from about 54 to 57.

The yields are good over most of the area with many fields cutting in the 3,000 pound range and I expect the county to average close to the 3,000 pound per acre mark.

The thing that hurts is the price. When harvest started here the price was around $4.50 and has subsequently dropped in price to the $3.90 per cwt. range. This is not unexpected as this happens about harvest time. The price breaks until the grain gets out of farmer hands and someone again discovers that there is a world shortage.

Screwworm Cases

Robertson, Limestone, and Brazos Counties have recently confirmed screwworm cases making it highly likely that Milam County will not be far behind.

I would encourage livestock producers to watch their livestock closely, treat any wounds promptly, and send larvae samples in to the Mission Laboratory for identification.

Screwworm Regulations Affect Stock

All livestock shipped out of Texas must now meet federal inspection and certification requirements, the U. S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) announced Tuesday, Aug. 3.

These intensified regulations are the result of action by USDA's Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service (APHIS) designating the entire state of Texas as an area of recurring screwworm infestations. Prior to this announcement, only the 39 southern counties of the state were so designated.

APHIS officials said the change will mean that all livestock, including cattle, sheep, swine, goats, horses, mules, and burros shipped from Texas must be inspected by state or federal animal health officials or accredited veterinarians and be certified free of screwworms before shipment.

Animals found to be infested with the parasite will be treated, and the entire shipment of livestock will be sprayed or dipped with a USDA approved insecticide.

In addition, all animals shipped from Texas into southeastern states are required to be dipped or sprayed even if found to be screwworm-free. These special requirements have been initiated in order to prevent the spread of screwworms into the Southeast, an area which has been free of the parasite for over 15 years.

New Brucellosis Facts Presented

FORT WORTH

Texas cattlemen will never see the complete eradication of brucellosis, according to Dr. J. H. G. Roerink, a world authority on the disease who held a special meeting with officials of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers in Amsterdam, Netherlands, in late June.

Dr. Roerink proposed a new slant for the U. S. program by stating that for all practical purposes brucellosis can be strictly controlled through a regular 45/20 vaccine program, replacing the present strain 19 vaccine now in wide use in the U.S.

Dr. Roerink, along with Dr. E. A. Van Daalen, both associated with N. V. Philips-Duphar, a world wide pharmaceutical firm based in Amsterdam, exploded some "myths" about the possibilities of the spread of the disease which surprised the Texans.

"About 99 percent of the new infection comes from clean animals consuming grass on which has been shed fetal membrane from an infected cow. Other than through the afterbirth discharge, the diseased cow cannot contaminate other cows or any bull that serves her," stated Dr. Roerink.

"A small percent of the spread can be laid to mechanical reasons, such as the transfer of live organisims on the instruments of veterinarians or from running water or from a dog or wolf dragging infected afterbirth to an adjacent pasture.

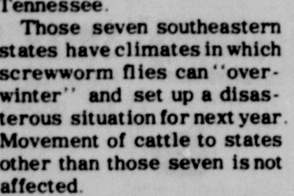
"In the Netherlands we isolate a heavy cow from the herd three of four weeks before she calves. This way she can't infect any other cow. This theory of exposure and spread of the disease through mere association in the pasture is not scientifically founded."

Dr. Roerink proposed a new slant to starting a 45/20 vaccination program is that this vaccine will not overreact on the card test on which the USDA relies so heavily, according to Dr. Roerink. This 45/20 is inactive, meaning that it contains dead organisms, while strain 19 contains live weak organisms that can often been over-condemnatory in misidentifying healthy cattle as being diseased.

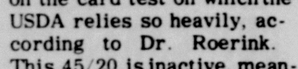
"Vaccine 45/20 will effectively eliminate abortion," reports Dr. Van Daalen. "In addition, it has a diagnostic value in that it helps identify an infected animal on the blood test that might otherwise escape undetected. We recommend a series of adult vaccinations and complement fixation tests the first six months, then only vaccinations every 18 months.

"The card test which you use so extensively in the U.S. is a good one," adds Dr. Roerink, "but only if you sue it for a prescreening test. No cattle should ever be slaughtered on the strength of it. Actually, I'm not in favor of slaughtering every infected animal, only those registering high positive reactions--100 CF or more."

Besides the success in the Netherlands, vaccine 45/20 has found good reception in France, England, and Ireland. "This 45/20 has a two-year shelf life when refrigerated," says Dr. Roerink. "It is a very stable product, much more so than strain 19, and thus it is more practical for competent layment to administer."



To clean a grease-laden oven, place a pan of water and one to two tablespoons of ammonia in the oven and let it stay overnight. Sponge off the grease in the morning.



When your oven is on, you can heat an open can of vegetables by setting it on the oven floor. Be sure to remove the label.

RAIN, RAIN GO AWAY--Farmers in southern portions of the state probably wished many times during the first part of July that the precipitation would stop. Three weeks and 15 inches of rain later, the sun finally came out, revealing many flooded fields. Grain sorghum and cotton farmers were especially hard-hit, Agriculture Commissioner John C. White reported.

Grain Sorghum, Cotton Damaged by July Rain

AUSTIN--Too much of a good thing can be bad, and many farmers in southern parts of Texas feel that way about rain.

As much as 15 inches of rain fell during the first three weeks of July, interrupting land preparation for fall vegetable planting and damaging crops that were ready for harvest.

"The grain sorghum crop was one of the hardest hit -- an estimated $134 million was lost in sales due to the rain," Agriculture Commissioner John C. White reported. "Harvest of damaged and poor quality grain is now underway along the Coastal Bend but prices farmers are being offered are much lower than they normally would get."

Grain that normally would have brought $4.50 per hundredweight or more is bringing prices as low as $1.50.

Citrus in the Valley has benefitted from the rain. The only ill effect reported is that growers are having to spray for citrus mites, which have become more troublesome.

Outlook Good For Dairy Farmers

Texas dairymen are producing two percent more milk this year than in 1975 with 22,000 fewer cows, points out Dr. Randall Stelly, an agricultural economist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. The average dairy cow in Texas is producing 70 more pounds of milk per month this year than last year.

Stelly says this increased milk production is due to culling of low milk-producing cows and heavier feeding of concentrates to cows.

The economist states that price supports will be kept at $8.13 per 100 pounds for manufacturing grade milk during the third quarter of the year which began July 1. This is the same rate which has been in effect since the beginning of the marketing year--April 1.

Meanwhile, prices received by dairymen for blend milk remain favorable, averaging about $10.50 per hundredweight in June.

The milk-feed price ratio --the relationshp between the price of milk and price of feed--is about 1.55 which is 20 percent higher than last year, notes the Texas A&M University System specialist.

USDA Suspends Livestock Dealer

Fred W. Wolff, Temple, has been suspended as a registered livestock dealer for violating bonding requirements of the Packers and Stockyards Act, the U. S. Department of Agriculture said today.

Wolff puchases livestock throughout central Texas.

The order was issued in default when Wolff failed to answer charges in an administrative complaint filed by USDA's Packers and Stockyards Administration.

Administrative Law Judge Victor W.Palmer suspended Wolff's registration until he complies fully with the bonding requirements. He may not operate as a dealer or market agency during that time.

Wolff was also ordered to cease and desist from operating as a dealer or market agency without filing and maintaining a reasonable bond.

Cards Take Two Games From Lobos

In the first game Kenneth Scott went the distance for the Cards and Mark Story was catcher. Score was 2-1. In the second Joe Reyes was the winning pitcher with Story at catcher. Bobby Conley and Lonnie Scott hit homers for the cards for a 12-8 victory.

The Cards will travel to Franklin Sunday to play a double header there.

Hamburger Party Fetes Girls Softball Team

The team finished its season in second place with a 5-3 record. Team members attending were Staci Hux, Janet and Kathy Dusek, Glenda Shelton, Felita Tindle, Missy Giesenschlag, Melanie Crook, Helaena Walthal, and Monica Kelm.

Others attending were Mr. and Mrs. Grover McCullin, Brian Giesenschlag, Sherry and Russel McCullin, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Crook, Mr. and Mrs. Jame Walthal and Shelly, and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Kelm and Kelvin.

The Road Runners would like to thank Laywell for his sponsorship and support during this past season and are looking forward to next year.

New Books At Library

The Cameron Public Library announced today the receipt of four books, a gift of the Amon Carter Museum of Western Art and the Texas Commission on the Arts and Humanities. The four-volume set of books--containing three with Bicentennial titles and one relating directly to Texas artistic heritage--will be distributed to 375 public and regional libraries throughout the state.

Included in the museum package are The Image of America in Carricature and Cartoon, The Face of Liberty, The Stripes and Stars, and The Artist was a Young Man.

The Face of Liberty contains biographies of portrait painters and their sitters. The book also describes the American Revolution as a conjunction of historical and creative influences.

The Stripes and Stars is the evolution of the American flag. Mitchell Wilder, director of the Amon Carter Museum, writes in the acknowledgement of this book: "Anyone could, and did, design a flag of his own choosing. The story of this metamorphosis of design is a fascinating revelation in the light of today's adherence to codes and practices involving use of and respect due to the flag."

All four books are published by the Amon CarterMuseum of Western Art.

RECEIVE AWARD--The "For God and Youth" award presented to the outstanding adult advisors of the Austin Diocese was awarded to Bob and Monica Schiller at the 20th annual Austin Diocese CYO convention. Search On For 1977 Cotton Maid

The search for the 1977 Maid of Cotton has officially begun, the National Cotton Council announced today.

Winner of the 1977 selection, to beheld in Memphis Dec. 28-29, will succeed Victoria Laughlin, Long Beach, Calif., as ambassadress for the American cotton industry.

Now in its 39th year, the selection is open to young women between 19 and 23 who were born in a cotton-producing state or who have maintained legal re'dence in the Cotton Belt since age seven or earlier. Applicants also must be at least five feet five inches tall, and have never been married.

The new Maid will emphasize cotton's continuing importance as a major fiber and its developing role as a significant protein source. Her international tour will include participation in major public relations and cotton promotion activities in Canada, Europe, and the Far East. Domestic tour will include appearances at Rotary Clubs in major metropolitan cities, and a variety of activities in other areas.

Following completion of her official tour next summer, the 1977 Maid will return to Memphis to receive a new automobile as a gift from dealers in the five-state Memphis Ford District.

Application forms for entering the selection may be obtained from the Council, P.O. Box 12285, Memphis, Tenn., 38112. Deadline for submitting completed applications and required photographs is Nov. 13.

Save the syrup of canned fruits in a plastic container and keep it in the freezer until you have enough. Thicken it with a little cornstarch and use it as a hot sauce over snow pudding, pound cake, French toast, or pancakes.

Lampasas Co. Beauty Named FB Queen

Cheryl McCann of Lometa, representative of Lampasas County, was crowned queen at the District VIII annual Farm bureau Queen's Contest held at 8 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 7 at the First United Methodist Fellowship Hall in Cameron.

Cheryl is the 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon McCann of Lometa. While in high school, she was elected class favorite her junior year and Best All-Around Girl both her junior and senior years. She served as secretary of her FHA area, was head majorette for two years, and salutatorian of her senior class.

Cheryl will enter Baylor this fall where she will major in biology and become a medical technologist.

Other nominees participating in the Queen Contest were Lynne Ann Falke, representing Milam County; France Conner, representing Coryell County; and Mary Beth Motl, representing Travis County.

Tom Catchings Jr., director of special activities in the Waco Farm Bureau office, presided as Master of Ceremony for the occasion. Music was provided throughout the evening by Mrs. Maxine Dodd. Judges were from the Corsicana school system.

Cheryl was also named winner of the Talent Find Contest.

Dates Changed For Playdays

The Buckholts FFA has announced a change of dates for two playdays which were originally scheduled for July 10 and August 14. New dates are August 21 and 28.

These will be the last in a series of three playdays sponsored by the Buckholts 4-H and FFA.

Both playdays will begin at 7:30 p.m. at Wilson-Ledbetter Park in Cameron.

How high will gas bills go, and when will they level off?

There is no sure answer. It depends, to a large extent, on what Lone Star has to pay its natural gas suppliers.

Just a few years ago, Lone Star paid only about 19¢ for a thousand cubic feet of gas.

Today, we have to pay almost $2 for a thousand cubic feet of new gas.

But you are still being charged at a much lower rate than that. You see, we are still buying old gas at lower rates under old contracts. So the average cost for gas, the cost that primarily determines your bill, is still just a little over $1 per thousand cubic feet.*

As our older contracts expire, and new, higher-priced gas is purchased, the average price will continue to rise (even if we don't buy any new gas). We can foresee an average price of around $2 per thousand cubic feet in a few years.

That's quite a big increase. We know because we're almost paying that price right now for new gas. But it should rise much more gradually in the next year or two than it has during the past year.

*Monthly reports on gas purchases filed with the Texas Railroad Commission are public record.

Holy Land Tour Set By Baileys

Dr. and Mrs. Joe Weldon Bailey of Calvert have planned a ten day tour of the Holy Land beginning Monday, Dec. 27. and concluding Jan. 5. The tour will begin and end at the Dallas-Fort Worth airport. Many Biblical places will be visited in Israel and Greece.

The Baileys have sponsored many trips abroad and are seasoned tour conductors. Their travels have taken them on an around-the-world tour plus returns to the Orient, Europe, and the Scandanavian countries.

The tour will leave on the morning of Dec. 27 from D/FW airport. From New York's Kennedy International airport a transatlantic jet flight will take the group to Rome where a transfer will be made to fly to Tel Aviv, Isreal.

In Israel all the major places of Biblical interest will be visited. A full day's journey will include Masada where by cable car the group will visit the Mount. A boat trip on the Sea of Gallilee will carry the group from Tiberias to Capernaum. Behtlehem, Jersusalem, Jericho, Nazareth, Tev Aviv, and the Dead Sea will be all included in the tour.

While in Athens, Greece one of the highlights will be a visit to the Acropolis. A full day's journey will be taken to Corinth. The tour will conclude January 5 and a flight from Athens to New York via Rome. From New York the group will arrive in the D/FW airport in the early afternoon.

Those interested should contact Dr. and Mrs. Joe Weldon Bailey, P.O. Box 65, Calvert, TX 77837

The American Quest

First came the convictions . . . solid rock-like convictions . . . about man and his rights . . . convictions about God and the gifts with which He generously blessed mankind. Then, came a search to implement these convictions; the result was our Declaration of Independence.

American liberty like America itself had its beginning in the quest for spiritual identity. In the wilderness itself the pilgrim fathers searched and labored to build a civilization based on their religious convictions. They probed their minds and hearts and discovered that they shared a common vision of "one nation under God." Again, the Declaration was the inspired result.

If our third century is to be one of "independence," like the two that have preceded it, all of us must continue this quest, and maintain this eternal vigilance of faith and religious commitment.

World's Fastest Outboard

Jim Merten of Oshkosh, Wis., heads for a new world outboard speed record of 136.381 mph on the Fox river at Kaukauna, Wis. The feat, which broke the existing record by more than 5 mph, was witnessed by officials of the Union of International Motorboating and American Power Boat Association. The new record is now pending official certification by UIM. His boat was a Twister-Craft cabover three-point hydro, powered by a 100-cubic inch Mercury outboard motor. The previous record speed was 131.051 mph, set in March 1966 by Gerry Walin of Edmonds, Wash.

Consumer Market Report

Turkey supplies are plentiful with periodic special price features in Texas grocery stores, making this a good choice for variety in summer meals, Mrs. Gwendolyne Clyatt, says.

"Fewer red meat specials exist and those available are scattered. Generally, featured items are chuck roasts and steaks, round, sirloin, and T-bone steaks.

"A few markets are highlighting corned beef and beef liver for lower cost-per-serving budget menus," she added.

Mrs. Clyatt is consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas A&M University System.

At vegetable counters, cabbage, carrots, corn, cucumbers, dry onions, and soft shell squash continue to have reasonable prices. Moderate price tags are on purplehull and cream peas, okra, broccoli, and eggplant.

"Watermelons are offered at attractive prices in some stores. The popular Pecos cantaloupes are available at moderate prices--quality is good."

Other fruits in season now are peaches, nectarines, cherries, grapes, plums, and pears. Also worthy of consideration are bananas and oranges.

"Reports indicate that fresh Bartlett pears will be in heavy supply during August, as a result of much larger crops in the Pacific Coast states.

"And grocery counters are offering more features on staple items such as peanut butter, nonfat dry milk, and canned fruits," she said.

CONSUMER WATCHWORD: Tests show that frozen bread with the ordinary commercial wrap will keep its freshness up to six months. And for homemade bread, use moisture-vapor proof material as a wrapping.

Burgess To Visit New Temple Mall

"It really thrills me to see such a fine shopping mall added to the Temple-Belton-Killeen area. I know how important it is to the residents and business communities to have such a modern, multi-faceted mall," Burgess said.

Burgess, Republican candidate for the 11th U. S. Congressional seat, also will speak this week in four area towns, meet with campaign supporters in five other towns, and shake hands with shoppers and businessmen in another five towns.
